December 7, 2009

The Pendleton County Water District has issued a precautionary boil water advisory for our customers in Campbell County and into Pendleton County to the Owen Electric Office on US 27. This will be in effect for Mon., December 7 at 11 p.m. until further notice. A precautionary advisory means you may want to boil any water consumed.

Due to loss of pressure from a main line break in conjunction with the highway construction work on US 27, this may increase the possibility of potentially harmful bacteria getting into the water system. Due to this possibility, we are posting this precautionary advisory.

Please boil your drinking water for three minutes until this advisory is lifted.

You will be notified in this same manner when the advisory is lifted.
